To whom it may concern,

It is with great pleasure that I write this letter of support for Toronto Central Adventist Community Services and their PossiBUILdity Health and Community Services Centre construction project.

It is crucial they receive any additional support that will ensure their continued and expanded operation, as they are a vital resource for the hundreds of families and individuals who rely on their services.

Toronto Central Adventist Community Services is an active member of Second Harvest's Delivery Program. The Delivery Program is a program of Second Harvest, Canada's largest food rescue organization and a global leader on food recovery. Through this program, non-profits and charities that meet local public health requirements, have safe food handling, and run a food program, qualify to access regular surplus food from our fleet of trucks. By accessing this donated food, non-profits and charities decrease the cost of programs and/or increase services provided to their participants.

For the past several years, Toronto Central Adventist Community Services has been a valued partner of Second Harvest. Through our partnership alone, they have helped redistribute nearly 200,000 lbs. of food to the vulnerable members of their community. By redirecting this food, they've also made a positive and substantial impact on the environment by preventing significant sums of greenhouse gas emissions from entering the atmosphere.

Second Harvest is grateful for this partnership with Toronto Central Adventist Community Services, and we fully support and acknowledge the incredible work they do for their community.

If you have any questions about their involvement with Second Harvest, please contact me, Paul Parillo, by email at paulp@secondharvest.ca.

Sincerely,
