Re: Toronto Central PossiBUILdity Project

Dear Judith,

I am writing this letter in support of PossiBUILdity, which is working to service those in the Toronto area who are low-income, marginalized and racialized, new immigrants, visible minorities and people identifying as Black, Indigenous and People of Colour (BIPOC).

We have been working with Toronto Central Adventist Community Services for a number of years now through donations of new and almost new clothing. They are always eager to collect new items to help the community. We have been so proud to have been able to support them with this, but after reviewing their program, it is clear that there is so much more support needed.

We are excited to see their Community Services Renovation Project start to come together and can't wait to see how it transforms lives. We wish the whole team great success as you focus your attention on transforming 6000 square feet of dormant building place into a bustling community centre that will benefit everyone.

Sincerely, Danica Scott
